

What's on my mind?

---

This is a strategy for “dumping out your mental suitcase.” If your head feels like a container full of unrelated stuff, take time to look at what’s there, sort through it and choose something important to reflect on. Sketch, label and have fun.

